Finally got round to fitting the buttons from ElizP987 👍

Went from....

To....

Makes such a difference, the raggedy holes covered and the mat actually stays where its supposed to! Thanks to these little buggers....I Quite like the plain look without the groves of the original ones...

Thanks again Liz

Billy No Mates

They look great Rich 😊

Have to add we purposely had them made without the slots in, intending to have a logo engraved. I actually prefer them myself without the slot, and polished up, as it also prevents dirt etc getting lodged in the groove. And with these, the more they are polished the better the shine. Unfortunately with vauxhalls they seem to have a coating that goes quite scabby pretty quickly.

These did cost quite a bit to have made up, and the quality difference between these and the Vauxhall ones is quite apparent. Just in the thread quality alone etc.

Will be on ebay very shortly (when I can be bothered to get my finger out and do so 😊)
